Art & Science – together to save lives

Special edition print by renowned artist Sir Peter Blake for The Eve Appeal

Be one of only 75 people in the world to own this very special limited edition print created for the charity to raise funds for medical research and information campaigns around the five gynaecological cancers.

Sir Peter Blake is a prominent English pop artist, perhaps best known for co-creating a very famous album cover! Central to his work are his interest in popular culture which infuse his collages and prints.

Created in 2019, The Eve Appeal print uses imagery from the charity's logo (the red heart) that covers the area of the body impacted by the gynaecological cancers. The work sends a powerful message.

These donated prints form part of the charity's Art4Eve programme where artists donate art pieces for sale in support of the charity and its life saving work in these too little talked about, under-profiled cancers.

This final sale of the Sir Peter Blake prints will be available for a limited time only (on sale 1st November – 23rd December 2021).

Please get in touch with Julie Jacobs, Julie.jacobs@eveappeal.org.uk to purchase a very special gift.

All prints are numbered (hand signed and numbered in pencil by Sir Peter Blake), so if there's a request for a particularly number, this may be available, please let us know at the time of placing your order.
